Napisa Waitoolkiat is the Deputy Director of the College of ASEAN Community Studies. She completed both an MA and PhD at Northern Illinois University in Political Science, after finishing a BA (also in Political Science) from Thammasat University in Bangkok. Her research is focused heavily on democratization and the political process, both in Thailand and throughout the states of ASEAN.

Publications